In Memory of Barbara Blake

"Barb Blake was one of the 3 founders of The Bearded Collie Club of Canada (the others being me, Alice Bixler, and honorary founder, Muriel Ratner).

Barb, Alice and I drew up the basic foundation of BCCC sitting around Barb's kitchen table. She lived in a small house in a clearing surrounded by woods. (Today, I think it's a subdivision.) Lots of room for the Beardies to play while we talked about the future of North American Beardies. And she and Colin had a swimming pool, which was an added draw for meetings at her place.

We did a lot of public relations -- make that arm-twisting - to get people to import a new breed to the country.

Over the years, we drifted apart and have only gotten together at Specialties, where we reminisced about the old days.

Barb was a part of the early days of Beardies in Canada and she will be missed. It's thoughtful and appropriate that BCCC is dedicating the Specialty to her."

Carol

In Memory of Barbara Blake

The human mind is rather amazing. It chooses to make some things instantly forgettable and permanently engraves others so that just the mention of a name brings a collage of memories to mind. I don't remember the day I met Barb Blake but I do recall Carol Gold telling me of a Rough Collie breeder who was interested in Bearded Collies. That, of course, was Barb who imported Tarskavaig Black Maria from the Isle of Skye to become one of the first seven Beardies to achieve recognition. Later, Barb acquired Dusty (Raggmopp First Lieutenant) from Carol's first litter and Colbara kennels officially switched from Rough to Bearded Collies.

One of those crystal clear memories is of the three of us sitting at Barb's kitchen table, working out the complexities of starting the Bearded Collie Club of Canada. One of the problems was having more offices to fill than members to fill them.

The first show where we were able to put together an entry after our breed was recognized also invades my mind. I believe it was at the now defunct Greenwood show and we had a respectable entry though most were still in puppy coat.

To remember Barb is to picture her in the ring with her "fairy princess" slippers. At least, that's what we called them. For ages, she always donned a pair of silver slippers before going in the ring. We never did know whether they were just comfortable for running or if she actually attributed some magical powers to them.

And then there was the specialty held in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show. I think it was our third or fourth. When judge Margaret Thomas pointed at Barb and her Panda Bayer for Best of Breed, Barb didn't know what she wanted her to do. She kept giving the judge puzzled looks so the judge pointed again and finally said, "You're Best of Breed" and Barb countered with "Who? Me?"

And there was the time Barb was fairly bubbling about a judge who had seen her bitch in the grooming area at a show and raved about what wonderful forequarters she had. She insisted we had to enter under him when he was judging locally a month later, confident she'd take the breed and maybe even a group placing. So I went along with the plan and entered my bitch, Bounce, for competition. To my surprise, and Barb's, Bounce and I left the ring with Best of Breed. She accosted the judge afterward and said, "But you told me she had such a wonderful front." The judge nodded in agreement and replied, "but this one has a better rear." Barb refused to ever enter under him again.

Following an ice storm one frigid winter, Barb showed up at my front door with a litter of pups. She had lost the electricity at her home and was afraid the pups wouldn't survive the cold. She and the litter were my house guests until her electricity was restored.

Over the years, there were many Colbara champions and Barb bolstered her breeding program by importing Osmart Black Pantella, Willowferry Victor and Brambledale Boz from England. Barb didn't drive so we traveled to many shows together with me as chauffeur. Barb had strong opinions on many topics and though I didn't always agree, at least the discussions made the miles fly by.

Many kennels got their start thanks to Barb and her Colbara Beardie. Search Canadian pedigrees and the names can be found if they haven't fallen off the end by now. Misfortune put an end to Colbara when Barb's husband, Colin, divorced her for another woman and she was unable to keep her home and kennels. Though no longer breeding and showing, Barb kept up an interest in Beardies and even judged sweeps at one of our specialties. The BCCC owes her a debt of gratitude for her pioneering efforts on behalf of our beloved Beardies.

Alice Bixler

Welcome Beardies and Friends to the Bearded Collie Club of Canada 2008 National Specialty.

It is my privilege to welcome you to the 36th Annual BCCC 2008 National Specialty, nestled in beautiful Gananoque. Please take time, while you are with us, to visit and explore the lovely picturesque countryside of the 1000 Islands.

The show committee has worked hard to plan events that I'm sure you will enjoy. We trust you will find the Wednesday evening BBQ and great Beardie Auction to be fun and relaxing. The Awards Banquet on Thursday will offer an opportunity to gather with old friends and new acquaintances and share in the accomplishments of the Beardies and their important people. These will be times to remember in years to come.

A huge Beardie thank you to the Show Committee and each of you who have contributed to make this a special time. Thank you to all who have generously contributed to the trophies, awards, and auction. We would not be successful without your support.

We are grateful to the Colonial Resort and Spa for willingly hosting this National Specialty. Please treat the grounds with respect. Please be considerate of guests and beardies while at this event. We thank you for your co-operation.

Thank you to the distinguished judges for sharing their expertise and knowledge about our beloved Beardies with us. We hope you will find pleasure and enjoyment while you are here in Gananoque at the 2008 National Specialty.

This Specialty is dedicated to the memory of Barbara Blake. The BCCC wishes to recognize the contributions of Barbara as a founding member of the BCCC.

The best to all beardies and exhibitors. It is now time - let the BCCC 2008 National Specialty begin!!
